To the Board of Directors
World Environment Center, Inc.
Washington, D.C.

We have audited the financial statements of the World Environment Center, Inc. (WEC) for the year ended June 30, 2013, and have issued our report thereon dated December 17, 2013. Professional standards require that we provide you with information about our responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards and Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our letter to you dated October 28, 2013.

Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

- Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Practices

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by WEC are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. No new accounting policies were adopted and the application of existing policies was not changed during the year ended June 30, 2013. We noted no transactions entered into by WEC during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected.

The most sensitive estimate affecting the financial statements was management's estimate of the allocation of expenses to programs, which is based on an allocation of the actual time spent on each program. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the allocation in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

The disclosures in the financial statements are neutral, consistent and clear. Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users.

- Difficulties Encountered in Performing the Audit

There were no difficulties encountered while performing and completing our audit.

- Discussions Prior to Retention

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as WEC's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

- Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We performed our audit according to the planned scope and timing previously communicated to you in our engagement letter and our other letter on planning of the engagement dated October 28, 2013.

- Management Representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated December 17, 2013.

- Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. All other misstatements detected as a result of audit procedures and corrected by management were not material, either individually or in the aggregate, to the financial statements taken as a whole.

- Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

- Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to WEC's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

- Independence and Non-Audit Services Provided by Audit Firm

In accordance with professional standards, during the fiscal year and currently, all members of our firm were independent with respect to WEC.

During the year under audit, we provided corporate tax preparation services (IRS Form 990) and additional tax advice. All other time and expenses incurred by us were in connection with our annual audit.

- Supplementary Information

With respect to the supplementary information accompanying the financial statements, we made certain inquiries of management and evaluated the form, content, and methods of preparing the information to determine that the information complies with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, the method of preparing it has not changed from the prior period, and the information is appropriate and complete in relation to our audit of the financial statements. We compared and reconciled the supplementary information to the underlying accounting records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves.

This information is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors and management of the World Environment Center, Inc., and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
